INTRODUCTION

Quality: Most of our translators are certified by the ATA (American Translator's Association). All of our translators have been tested by us. Many are working in the United-States; some are working in their country of origin.

Standard time frames: One translator does an average of 2,500 words per day, so if a request for translation allows the translator 2,500 words per day, it is considered a normal time frame.

Example: The translation of 10,000 words is requested. 10,000/2500 = 4. So one translator needs to be given 4 full working days to complete the translation; editing/proofreading of experienced translators is an additional one hour for every 2,000 words.

Rush fee: If the time frame for delivery of the translation does not give one translator a time period that allows 2,500 words per day, then a rush charge is applicable.

Example: translation of 5,000 words is requested in one working day. In such rush situations, translators can work extra hours or on the weekends, or the translation can be divided between 2, or even 3 translators, who communicate closely with each other to coordinate terminology choices.

Quote: We provide a quote for all translations requests. The quote is provided within 2 hours of the request (usually in less than one hour).

Certification: All our prices include a notarized certification of the translation. If requested and at no extra charge, we can have sent in PDF format of the notarized certification attached to the translation for your records.

Payment policy: Payment is in 30 days

5. A&R Translations exercises due diligence for translation and interpretation services provided

III QUOTES

1. All quotes are based on the Source Material and instructions from the Client and are valid for 10 days. Although every effort is made for quotes to be as accurate as possible, A&R Translations reserves the right to change quotes if the translation of the Source Material requires significantly more work than anticipated. Under these rare circumstances, A&R Translations will inform the client of any changes to the agreed quote as soon as the project manager becomes aware of the problem. If no agreement can be reached, A&R Translations will invoice the Client only for the work carried out up to that point.

2. By accepting the Quote, estimate or fee rate, the Client accepts these Terms and Conditions and authorizes A&R Translations to proceed with translation of the Source Material(s) or to provide the interpretation services requested

4. If the Client fails to pay A&R Translations any sum when due pursuant to these Terms, the Client will be liable to pay interest to A&R Translations on such sum from the due date for payment at the annual rate of 2 above the per annum interest rate announced by and quoted in the Wall Street Journal from time-to-time as the prime or base rate, or the highest rate allowed by law, whichever is lower, accruing on a daily basis until payment is made, whether before or after any judgment.

VI. WARRANTIES AND LIABILITIES

1. A&R Translations will endeavor to ensure that the Final Translation meets the Client's specific requirements and is error-free. However, all translations can vary linguistically depending on their nature and purpose, the target audience and the source text. The fact that there is more than one possible interpretation of the Source Material and that it could be translated differently does not entitle the Client to refuse payment or reject the Final Translation as unsatisfactory.

2. A&R Translations warrants that the Final translation is, within the limits as described above, an accurate translation of the Source Material. A&R Translations is not liable for any subsequent changes by the Client to the Final Translation regardless of their nature and whether they are made to the text, layout or formatting.

3. The Client shall raise any issues regarding the Final Translation within 30 days of receipt. If the Client requests a review of the whole or part of the Final Translation, such review will be undertaken based on an agreement made between the parties. The Client may, at its sole discretion, waive all or part of the fee if the review finds no significant errors.

4. A&R Translations shall not be liable for any loss of profits, business, contracts, revenue, damage to the Client's reputation or goodwill, anticipated savings, and or any other indirect or consequential loss or damage whatsoever arising out of or in relation to the Agreement and the Final Translation.

5. A&R Translation's entire liability for the Final Translation under the Agreement is limited to the agreed quote.

VI. INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY AND COPYRIGHT

1. The Client warrants that the Source Material and the Final Translation do not infringe any intellectual property rights and will indemnify A&R Translations for any costs, claims, or damages arising out of the Agreement, including, but not limited to management time, legal fees, and may at its own cost defend or settle, any claim, action or proceedings brought against A&R Translations, based upon a claim of intellectual property rights infringement in relation to the Source Material or Final Translation.

2. The intellectual property in the Final Translation shall vest in the Client once full payment has been received. A&R Translations is entitled to retain one copy of the Source Material and Final Translation free of charge and for internal business use only (for example as future reference material for same Client).

VII. CONFIDENTIALITY AND PRIVACY POLICY

1. Through the provision of services to the Client, A&R may have access to, and acquire confidential information and trade secrets relating to the Client including information about its clients and business dealings ("Confidential Information").

2. During the term of engagement, A&R will not, unless compelled to do so by law or authorized by the Client, use or divulge any of the Confidential Information. The restraint contained in the clause above will continue to apply to A&R Translations after the expiration of the provision of services to the Client, but will cease to apply to Confidential Information which comes into the public domain other than as a result of the unauthorized acts or omissions of A&R Translations.

3. A&R Translations will obtain assurances from its agents that they will safeguard personal information consistent with this Policy.

5. All client communication and files in digital format are stored on a secure network, accessible only by approved staff. All critical systems and servers are separately housed within A&R Translations' secure facilities and are accessible only by authorized personnel. Our information security is managed internally and meets industry standards for secure networks. A&R Translations takes precautions to protect personal information from loss, misuse and unauthorized access, disclosure, alteration, and destruction.
